DEVELOPING NEW SERVICE MODELS IN CAMHS, SOCIAL CARE AND EDUCATION

Non Violent Resistance (NVR) Training & Workshop Programme 2022

As the first UK training provider to offer a comprehensive NVR course, we have the greatest experience in training professionals in the UK and abroad.

NVR Certificate Course

Foundation & Advanced Courses for Winter, Spring, Summer and Autumn 2022. Online and Face to Face learning options available, with in-person training held in our London & Leeds venues.

The Certificate Course enables participants to develop the core knowledge and skills that are necessary to competently use this intervention for violence, aggression, controlling, destructive and harmful behaviour in the family, school and community.

NVR offers a unique scope and depth of training which ranges from the NVR core model to an integrated approach for working with trauma and with multi-stressed families. After successful completion of the full course (including evaluation), participants will receive the PartnershipProjects Advanced Certificate in NVR Practice.

UPDATED for 2022

Supervisor Training in NVR -

3 day course in November 2022
with 1 day Online and 2 days in-person at London venue.

Practitioners require clinical supervision to support them in their work with NVR, so they can maximise their effectiveness and safely manage risk. This can only be delivered safely by professionals who are proficient in the delivery of NVR, and who have received additional training in recognising and addressing the supervisory needs of practitioners working within the approach.

The training develops the skill-base for specific 'clinical' supervision in NVR; this is particularly necessary for workforce development, risk management and safe, competent practice: working with issues relating to aggression, violence, destructive behaviour and trauma is especially taxing to the individual frontline practitioner, who requires high-level expert support to prevent burn-out or secondary traumatisation and maintain their emotional well-being.

Delivering NVR Parent Groups using the PartnershipProjects Hybrid Format: 2-day module

Exclusively Online in Spring and Autumn 2022.

This training module teaches the delivery of parent groups based on the PartnershipProjects Hybrid Parent Group format. The 2 days will focus on how participants can deliver an effective parent group which is integrated with individual family work. Instead of being a manualised programme, the Group Hybrid format aims to flexibly meet the very specific needs of each individual participating family / parent. In this way, it can have the most 'therapeutic' effects for everyone involved, by 'coaching' parents in meeting the particular challenges they face, utilising their own resources, and building their own support networks along the way. Participants will learn to apply the principles of NVR in a parent group setting, use this environment to improve parents' confidence and utilise group processes to help build their competency in resisting any harmful child behaviour long after the group work has ceased.

Online Workshop Introduction to NVR

Exclusively Online in Spring and Autumn 2022

Developed by Haim Omer and his team, Non Violent Resistance (NVR) is a new, innovative approach to dealing with aggressive, harmful and self-destructive behaviour. Deriving its methods from the principles of raising parental presence, de-escalation and reconciliation, NVR promotes constructive resistance to harmful behaviour, while seeking to support adults in reconnecting with their child and developing a non-punitive yet strong parental position.

NEW for 2022

Masterclass 'Imaginary Processes' in NVR

Held Face to Face
with Peter Jakob and Willem Beckers,
London, October 2022

During these two practise-based days, you will be invited into co-authoring new narratives of preferred futures with parents, by using a variety of methods to stimulate imaginary processes and creative conversations. These new and significant interventions help parents overcome erasure in the Non Violent Resistance process and offer a much more hopeful trajectory. Building on their own unique and shared therapeutic approaches, Peter Jakob and Willem Beckers aim to expand freedom of movement for you and the families you are working with.

NEW for 2022

Haim Omer Introductory Masterclass, Series 1

We are delighted to present a unique
10 week NVR video Masterclass Series
by Haim Omer, followed by a further 4 weeks dedicated to your Q&A.

Haim Omer presents all the basic concepts, tools, and language of NVR in his first systematic course on the approach. Learn from Haim Omer as he speaks about how he creates a positive alliance with parents and motivates them to develop presence, self-control, persistence, and a support network. This online course comprises ten lectures (60 to 90 minutes) which will be facilitated & supported by one of our accredited NVR Practitioners. Each week will cover a different topic, and at the end of each video lecture there will be chance to discuss the content of the course with our practitioner. Following the series of video lectures there will be an additional four sessions in which Omer answers your frequently asked questions about NVR.
